

Nepal

Nepal is a landlocked country in Asia, which means it doesn't border any seas or oceans. It is completely surrounded by China and India on every side. It is a country full of opposites. The capital city of Kathmandu reaches an average high temperature of 78° F, but the mountain tops are far below freezing. Some places get 75 inches of rain every year, while other places are deserts.

Nepal is a small country, but it is home to a BIG mountain. Mt. Everest, the highest mountain in the world, is in Nepal. It's part of the Himalayan mountain range that sits on the border between Nepal and China. Mount Everest is 29,035 feet high (or 8,850 meters) or almost 5½ miles! If you could stack 20 Empire State Buildings on top of each other, that would equal about the height of Mt. Everest.

Kathmandu is the capital of Nepal and its largest city. It was founded over 1,000 years ago, in AD 723! Today it is home to ancient palaces and a modern university and has an airport nearby.

Pokhara is about 100 miles west of the capital. It is hotter and wetter than most other places in the country. It can reach 100°F in June and get around 100 inches of rain during the monsoon season.

I hope you've enjoyed visiting four of the many cities in Nepal! Before you leave to go home, could I ask you to do something special for the people here? Nepal is home to more than three hundred people groups. Over one hundred languages are spoken, but only a few dozen have any Scriptures translated for them yet. Of the approximately 30 million people who live in Nepal, more than 29 million still do not understand how much Jesus loves them.

Will you remember to pray for the people of Nepal? Here are a few things you can pray for. You can add more prayer requests to the list as you think of them!

Pray that people will have Bibles to read in whatever language they speak.

Pray for the people living in Kathmandu, Bandipur, Chitwan, Pokhara, and every city and town to believe in Jesus.
