

The Arctic fox is a small fox that lives in burrows. It has thick fur to help it stay
warm.

There are many types
of cats, and they come in different
colors and sizes.

Raccoons live in North
and South America.
They have rings on their tails and a
mask of black hair
around their eyes.

A woodpecker is a
bird that uses its beak to make holes in trees so it can find
food and build nests.