

People in the 1940s

In the 1940s, girls
wore popover dresses
and playsuits to save fabric needed for the war and wore
bobby socks instead of stockings. Boys wore Eisenhower
jackets and sloppy joes.

A memorial stands

there today to remember the more than 2,000 people

who died in the attack.

Field hospital

Nat King Cole