George Washington was the first president of the United States.

He worked hard on the farm as a boy.

He also worked as a surveyor, measuring and mapping the land.

George loved riding horses.

When he was twenty, he became a major in the Virginia militia.

He was elected to lead

the army before

the Declaration of Independence was signed.

*On Christmas night in 1776, he led his men
across the Delaware River in a surprise attack.*

Stories say Betsy Ross was asked to make the first flag for the new nation in 1776.

The nation's first flag had thirteen stripes and thirteen stars.

George Washington led a group of delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

George and Martha

Washington spent much time talking with people after he became president.

He made many speeches about what was going on in the new government.

George Washington became known as the "Father of His Country."

George's wife Martha was the nation's very first First Lady.

*George Washington
treasured his own copy of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.*

Mount Vernon was Washington's home in Virginia, and he visited often.

Men in his day wore hats and powdered wigs.

The Liberty Bell

reminds us of the brave people who fought to build a free nation.

*The nation honored George Washington by putting

George Washington is also honored in the carving on Mount Rushmore.

The Washington

Monument was named after the first president.
