

When people could not repay their
loans, banks closed.

People tried all sorts
of jobs to try to pay their bills.

When people lost

their homes, they

made shelters

wherever they could.