

The ancient Egyptians
called Egypt "Kemet"
because of the rich
soil near the Nile River.

The longest river in the world, the Nile River,
runs through Egypt.

The Egyptians put
a mummy in
a sarcophagus.

Pharaoh was the title
given to Egyptian rulers
for many centuries.