Writing Prompt #1

You are helping your mother make bread and turn to pick up the container of coriander that you need for seasoning, but it's not there. It couldn't have walked away by itself - unless it had help. Where could it have gone? What has happened to it?

©Bonnie Rose Hudson WriteBonnieRose.com

Writing Prompt #4

You are in charge of building a canoe for a wealthy merchant. It is the day he has come to test it out, and he is dressed in all his finery. Just then, you notice a spot the workers did not seal. Water will be able to leak into the canoe. What do you do? Do you try to stall the merchant from climbing aboard? Are you successful?