

Garrett Morgan was

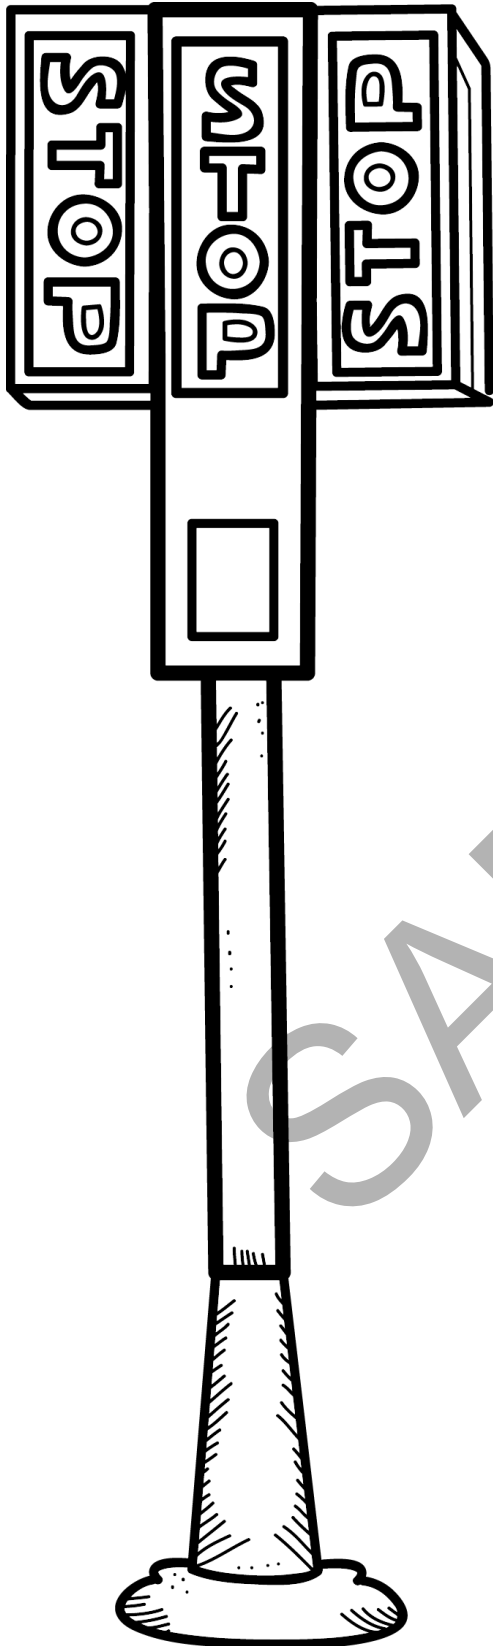

a man who saw a

problem and tried to solve it.

They ran and got him. He and several others put
on safety hoods
and rescued the
trapped men!

Morgan
invented a new kind. It
had arms
that opened . . .

so people on all
sides of an intersection knew
when to stop.