

Creation: Day One, God Creates the Heavens and the Earth

When God decided to create the earth, He made the earth and everything on it from nothing. God only had to speak what He wanted, and it happened. He had that much power. Everything in existence had a beginning except God, and we know He will never have an ending.

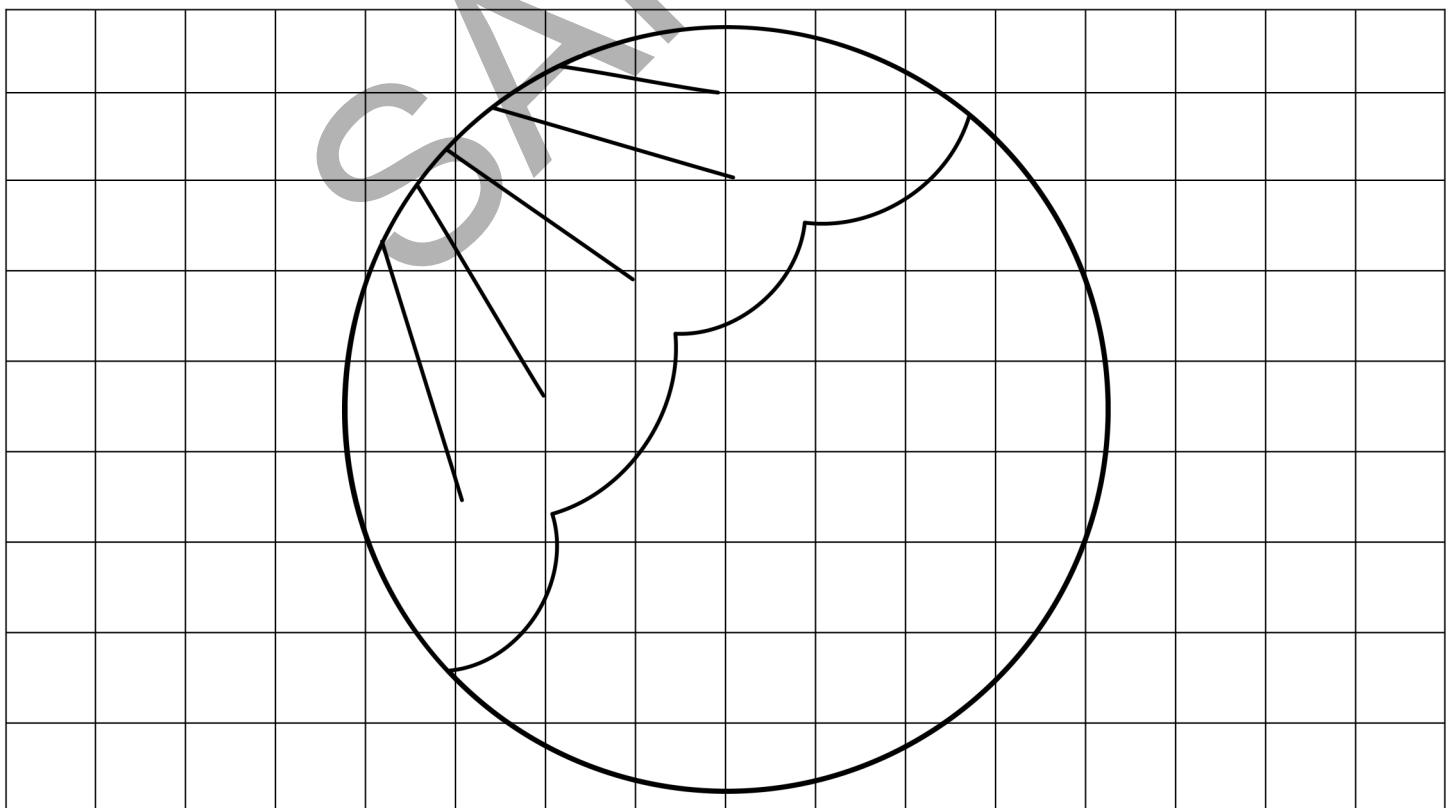

In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth. The earth was without form and void, and darkness was over the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God was hovering over the face of the waters.

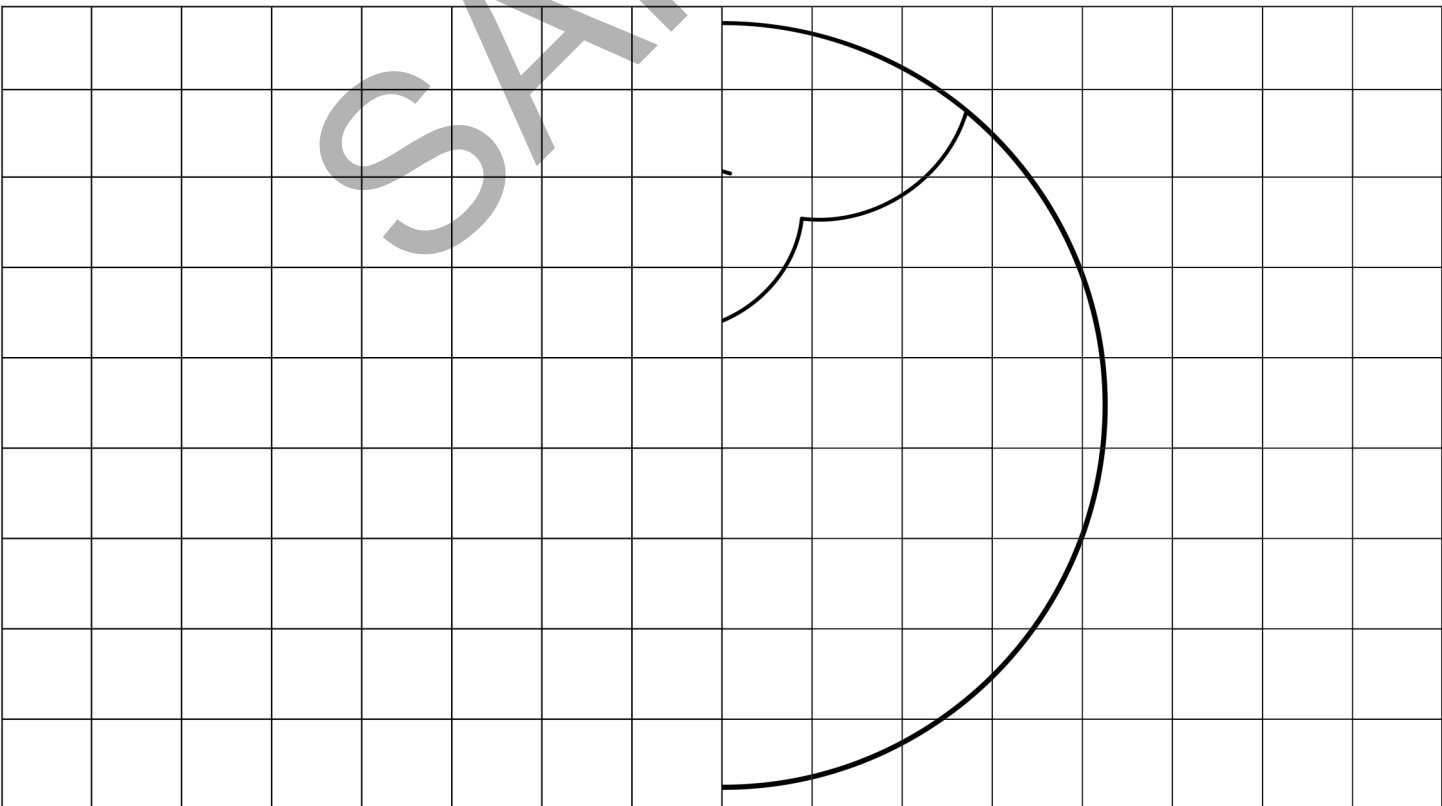

And God said, "Let there be light," and there was light. And God saw that the light was good. And God separated the light from the darkness.

God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And there was evening and there was morning, the first day. Genesis 1:1-5

Follow these instructions to draw a picture representing Creation: Day One, God Creates the Heavens and the Earth like the one shown below:

- Decide if you want to draw the right half of the picture or the left half of the picture and draw it in one of the first two grids. You can draw both if you'd like. Don't worry if you can't draw every detail. Just do your best and draw as much of the picture as you can.
- Now, using a blank grid from the back of the book, try drawing the whole picture.
